OUR PROCESS

01

Free Discovery Zoom Call

02

Custom Proposal

Once you approve of our custom proposal, we'll make it official with a $500 non-refundable retainer in order to book your date in our calendar and sign a floral agreement.

03

Planning + Consultation

After signing the contract we will work with you or your wedding planner throughout the planning process, making any edits to your order and providing consultation as needed for any floral & décor related decisions. Any changes may be made up until 6 weeks before the wedding. The final balance will also be due at this time. We don't order flowers without full payment.

04

6-4 weeks before your wedding date we will reach out to you again and re-connect virtually so we can go over all of the final details to gather final numbers at this meeting.

05

This ensures accuracy before progressing into a full proposal or a paid creative consultation.

Format of the Meeting • 30 minutes via Zoom

*All key decision-makers must be present
Calls begin and end at the scheduled time;
late arrivals shorten the session*

If deeper design or planning guidance is needed, we will direct you to the Paid Creative Consultation

This call establishes the preliminary details needed before moving to the next step in our booking process.

Cancellation Policy

Cancellation + Rescheduling Policy Ladies Love Flowers offers a limited number of complimentary consultations each month to ensure we can be fully present and prepared for every couple. If you need to reschedule, please do so at least 48 hours in advance. No-shows or cancellations made with less than 48 hours' notice may require a paid consultation to book a new appointment.

To protect the integrity of your time and ours, we ask that all decision-makers (or the person leading design direction + the financial decision-maker) attend the call so we can have a productive and aligned conversation. If Ladies Love Flowers needs to reschedule In the rare case we need to adjust your appointment due to production schedules or event commitments, we will notify you promptly and offer the next available time that ensures you receive our full attention.

Walking into an initial consult with a potential wedding florist is both exciting and maybe also a little scary! Here is my tried-and-true Initial Consultation Checklist which will fully prepare you to walk into that consultation feeling confident and thrilled to gush about all things floral!

◦ PINTEREST BOARD

All the pretty things in one place! As a florist, I love to scroll your mood boards knowing they are just tiny little windows into the dreams of your wedding! Have some visual examples of what you're looking for in terms of design but work with your florist to create something unique to YOU!

◦ COLOR PALETTE

Design with the end in mind and know that many flowers come in a variety of shades and will be difficult to “match” just perfectly. Having a well-designed color palette will allow your florist to use it to enhance your day by bringing a sense of cohesion and coordination. If you're unsure of your color palette, be prepared with one or two colors you want to see incorporated and let your florist work their magic designing the rest!

◦ QUANTITIES

It's difficult for a florist to provide you an accurate quote if you're unsure of what exactly you need. Take a little time to write out what your needs are. Be prepared with the quantities needed for items like bouquets, boutonnieres, corsages, guest tables, etc.

◦ BUDGET

Be honest about where you are with your budget. More likely than not, flowers will end up costing more than you might think due to the labor, shipping, processing, designing, set up and teardown needed to pull off your wedding day. Be clear about what you are comfortable spending and if there is any wiggle room in your budget.

◦ VISION

Take a moment to just dream. Hit pause on the Pinterest scroll and begin to visualize what will make your wedding uniquely YOU. Think about the role you want flowers to play in your wedding and the unique story they will tell in who you and your fiance are. Have a clear sense of what you're looking for in terms of florals and color palette, but don't feel like you need to have it all figured out either — that's where our job as the designer comes in!

Feel like you ready to next step?! I'd love to dream up all things with you in an initial consultation of our own! Fill out an inquiry form on our website and get in touch!

When can I schedule a consultation?

Once you have your wedding date, venue, and color palate selected we would love to meet with you. We only take one event each weekend so recommend booking as soon as you have these decisions made. Ideally, 12-6 months before the wedding date, but if there are only a couple of months left before the wedding, then we will definitely come up with something cool.

Our initial consultations are typically held virtually via Zoom call

After I book can I make changes?

Absolutely! After the contract is signed, you may request to make changes 3 more times .To request a change, you may simply email or call us. Email is preferred.

Since we work with a limited number of clients each month, when you sign your initial proposal we contract with you for the financial investment of the proposal. We have a proposal review about 6 weeks before your event when you can make adjustments and any additions. We will review this process in detail during your initial consultation.

What are the terms?

The first payment is a non-refundable retainer. After the concept is approved, you need to make an advance payment of $500 The second/last part of the total amount should be paid the 6 weeks before the wedding.

If you booking us less than 3 months prior your date we require 50% a non-refundable retainer after that your date will be booked.
